The following account of a visit to Anderson in 1857 was submitted by Katie Campbell. Thanks Katie for sharing this with us.

EXTRACTS FROM A DIARY KEPT BY MICAJAH ADOLPHUS CLARK IN 1857 ON A VISIT FROM KOSCIUSKO, MISSISSIPPI TO HIS WEBB RELATIVES IN ANDERSON COUNTY, S.C.

After describing a trip by carriage, stage coach & numerous railroads, the writer reached Columbia, S.C., where he got in an omnibus and went to the Congaree Hotel.

July 14, 1857. It being late (6:10 p.m.) and I tired, I called for a room and was conducted to a room on the third story, room 58, I was pleased with the appearance of the room, which was richly carpeted & had a dressing room connected with it, where there was everything for a traveler's comfort, in my room was a fine piano, with preparations for bathing. It was on Main St. where I could look over a portion of town.

July 15. After a fine nights rest I woke invigorated, bathed & walked out on the streets & viewed the Presbyterian church a beautiful building, of about 150' to the top of the steeple, having in its graveyard the finest monuments I have ever seen. I then went up to the Capitol now being erected, a magnificent building about 500' long. A railroad built out to a rock quarry brings the rock in. The architect employed to construct the building gets $8000 per year. It will not be completed short of ten years. It will cost over three million dollars & is designed to be the finest statehouse in the south. My tavern bell then ringing I went there & had a splendid breakfast. This is the best tavern I have put up at since I left home. Columbia is a delightful place, the ground descending in all directions. It appears that nature designed it for the location of a beautiful city. It is on Broad River & contains about 9000 inhabitants.

I took a ticket to Anderson Court House, distance 128 miles, for which I paid $6.00. Night's lodging at Columbia, S.C. $1.50. (here follows two pages describing the country between Columbia & Anderson)-He continues:

Passed Honey Path in Anderson District; got to Belton, where the Anderson R.R. turns off from the Greenville Road. It is now 10 mi. from Anderson C. House, which I reached at 5:30 p.m., on Wednesday, July 15. I landed at the Depot  $\frac{1}{2}$  miles from Main St. Got in an omnibus & was driven to the Benson House. After washing & brushing I walked out to take a look at the town, the place where I once lived, but I was not prepared to see what a change it had undergone since I last saw it in January 1847. I walked upstairs of the courthouse. Court being in session there were many persons there. Yet none that I recognized for the time save Elijah Webb, an uncle of mine, who appeared much pleased to see me. I looked in vain for old acquaintances, but saw none I could recollect. I walked out to look around town, but soon discovered that it had changed so that I did not know where to find any place or any person. The whole square is built up of large brick buildings, 2 & 3 stories high. I then went down to the steam mill in the edge of town, owned by my cousin T. Jeff Webb, who was there, I was truly glad to see him and he to see me.

Anderson is one of the prettiest little towns I ever saw, having 16 dry goods stores & a great many other business houses. The square is perfectly level, dry, sandy & gravelly. The pavements all around are of brick; the courthouse is in the center, with a row of shade trees all around of locust & china trees. There are 2 excellent female schools here of high distinction, 1 having about 60 pupils. The other, called the Johnston Female University has about 200 pupils. It is endowed with $80,000. There is also a male school here. There is a railroad in operation from this place through Pendleton, across the Blue Ridge to Nashville, Tenn. The cars will reach Pendleton this winter. Another railroad is surveyed to run from Anderson to Savannah, Ga. called the Savannah Valley R.R. Also there is to be a railroad to run through here from Atlanta, Ga. to Wilmington, N.C., called the Air Line Railroad, which will be the main traveled road to New York from all the southeastern states. When all these roads are completed this will be a busy town. There is a great deal of wealth here now. I went with Cousin T. Jeff Webb to his father's Dr. Edmond Webb, who lives in a large brick house on Main Street. His family consisted of his wife, Aunt Martha, T.J. Webb & his wife Elizabeth E., their son Warren & daughter Julia. I took them completely by surprise. T. Jeff is a steady business man, doing well. Julia is a beautiful, highly accomplished girl. Warren has just returned from a trip to Kansas. I spent the night very pleasantly with them.

July 16: Anderson, - I amused myself today looking around town & occasionally meeting an old schoolmate or an acquaintance. Spent a part of the day in the courtroom, hearing fine speeches by Hon. Jacob Reid, James Harrison & others, mostly railroad cases. I dined today at Dr. Edmond Webb's & in the evening I went up to Uncle Elijah Webb's, who lives in town & has been Clerk of the Court for 20 years. His family consists of his wife Rosa & 5 children: Mrs. Lou Wilkes, Dudley, Rebecca, Rosa Sinclair & Charles. Uncle Elijah is doing very well. He has a farm 4 miles from town on which he has a good many hands. He is very lively & loquacious, quite interesting & is one of the busiest & most intelligent men of the place. Uncle Warren R. Webb is now boarding with him, he having come up from Charleston to spend the summer. He has been in business in Charleston 16 yrs. & has made a great deal of money. He is a bachelor, 55 yrs old & speaks of retiring. Cousin Charles A. Webb who assists Uncle in writing in the Clerks Office also boards with Uncle.

July 17: Anderson - Cousin Lou Wilkes called to see me at Uncle's. She seemed delighted to see me. She is a beautiful, intellectual woman, gifted in conversation & one of the most interesting ladies I ever met. Cousin Dudley H. Webb came in town & we all dined with Elijah Webb. Dudley insisted on my going home with him; said he would give me a seat in his buggy & furnish me with a horse to ride as long as I wished. I told him he was my man & I accepted his invitation. Therefore in the evening I went home with him  $8\frac{1}{2}$  mi north of Anderson. He is well fixed for farming. He has a splendid place, well improved. He has a wife & 2 children. Before marriage his wife was named Helen Wilson. She is a beautiful woman, very sociable & lively. They have a son named Thomas Jefferson & a daughter named Elizabeth Carolina.

July 18: I walked over Dudley's crop & found it good. He has 4 hands given him by his father & plenty of everything around him to make him comfortable. In the evening Dudley & wife went with me to Aunt Elizabeth Webb's, 4 mi. distant. I found her doing well, Her family consists of Mrs. Caroline Wilson, Mrs. Delilah Gambrell, Charles G., Edmond & Sarah, the last two living with her. Edmond is quite steady; lives with her and manages her business for her. She has a beautiful place & has property & Negroes enough to make bountiful of everything. I enjoyed myself finely that night. It appears they never get ~~into~~ talking to me. Next morning, July 19, being Sabbath, I put on my best & after spending a pleasant time drove Cousin Sarah out to Six & Twenty Church, some 5 or 6 miles. Had a pleasant ride, as she was an incessant talker, full of life, fun and devilment.

July 19: Found a large congregation at church. Heard 2 sermons. Saw a host of fine looking young ladies there & made a few acquaintances with some of them. I saw many a strange eye among the ladies wandering toward me. I returned with my cousin to my Aunt's where I took dinner. In the evening, I went up to Cousin Charles G. Webb's where I spent the night. He lives one mile from Aunt's. Charles has quite a domestic wife named Amanda. They have now but 1 child, a boy named Adolphus Clark Webb, Charles has 4 hands & seems to be making plenty of everything.

Monday: July 20- I came back to Aunt's & took Cousin Sarah in a buggy to visit Cousin John & Caroline Wilson, who lived some 6 miles off on Six & Twenty Creek. Found them doing well. Wilson has a good crop; he has 4 or 5 hands. His wife is a very nice business woman. They have 8 children, viz; Elizabeth, James, William, Augusta, Margaret, Mary Hannah & a pair of twins, Charles Jackson & John Thomas. After dinner I rode over to Major Miller's. His wife was an old acquaintance of Mother's & also a relative. They are very rich. After remaining here about 2 hours & looking around the place where I once lived for 2 yrs when a boy, I bade them adieu & started to visit the Manual Labor School place where I went to school 2 yrs, which place we moved from when we left for Mississippi. It was then a flourishing place with 85 boarding students; every 4 having a room, these rooms forming a square, with the Academy in the center; the professors' house in one corner and the stewards house in another corner. Failing to find the place I inquired the locality of some men harveting who pointed out a house nearby. I discovered a sunken place where once was the well and I could see occasionally a brickbat where once stood a chimney. What a great change 20 yrs can make. Many boys with whom I went to school here for 2 yrs now fill high positions in church and state. One of my classmates, James L. Orr, is one of South Carolina's leading men. I went back to John Wilson's; got my buggy & Cousin Sarah, and went back to Aunt's, where I spent the night pleasantly.

Tuesday, July 21: Left Aunt's & went over to Cousin Dudley Webb's. After dinner, I went down to Uncle Elijah Webb's, living 4 mi. from Anderson. He is well fixed for living, having a plenty of everything around him. He has only 3 children: Mrs. Catherine Pool, Elijah & Warren. He talked me almost to death; asking me everything about Mississippi.

July 22: I rode over to Cousin Catharine Pool's. She is a sprightly woman, and Pool is an industrious farmer, making plenty. They have 2 children, William Henry & Emily. The author then went down to Anderson where he dined at Dr. Edmond Webb's; after which he "started for the Centerville neighborhood, 10 mi. passed by where Grandfather Matthew Clark died & where I boarded in 1840 and 1841.

After describing several days visits to houses of other relatives in the county the author said he rode out of his way, so "that I could pass the place where my grandfather Charles Webb lived. I found the place a perfect waste. The houses had all long since been removed & the place cultivated where his houses & Negro quarters once stood, until it had worn out & washed into gullies; now growing up in briars & pines. Many times has my mother carried me there in her father's time, when everything around them was a delightful view of Seneca River as it rolled over rocks & shoal for one mile. I rode to the family graveyard on a small knoll close to where the house stood, which I found neglected with nothing to mark the place but heaps of stones. I could but think now what good does Grandfather's wealth, that he accumulated by long and hard exertions, do him.

How poor does his grave look. Before leaving South Carolina for Miss. I made arrangements with my Uncles in S.C. to have grandfather's family graveyard enclosed with a rock wall.

After spending a week visiting other relatives in Anderson County & nearby Georgia, the author on Wednesday July 29, tells of meeting in Anderson his old schoolmate James L. Orr, who had just returned from traveling the rough the west. After which the author went to Aunt Eliza Webb's, 5 mi. from town. He gives names of the children. In his visits to relatives before leaving for home the author next went to Dudley Webb's and went with the family to Hopewell Church, where he heard Rev. Long & W.H. Webb preach.

Thursday, July 30: Went to church again today in Cousin Helen's carriage & saw some young ladies of my old acquaintance & enjoyed myself well with them. After meeting I got in the carriage of Cousin Edmond & Sarah Webb & went home with them. Mr. Gambrell, who married Cousin Delilah Webb, & family came to Aunt Betsy's & stayed all night. She manifested as much joy in seeing me as I ever saw. I used to love her as a sister. Gambrell lives near Belton, 10 mi. from Aunt's. They have 3 children: William Milton Mary Susan & JAMES ADOLPHUS. I was told that Gambrell was doing very well. I think that he is a gentleman & a good business man.

Friday, July 31: I went over to Charles G. Webb's; remained there a while & went again to church, Cousin Sarah with me. Returned to Aunt Betsy's after meeting broke. One young man presented himself for membership & gave in his experience, but on taking the vote of the church he was rejected. In the evening Dr. Hopkins, who boards with Aunt & practices medicine, Cousin Doc E. Webb & I got in a buggy & drove up the road  $1\frac{1}{2}$  miles to call on some young ladies who were some of South Carolina's brag girls, much talked about, daughters of Capt. Williams who lives at Piercetown. I was introduced; took my seat on a sofa & sat rather mute for a few minutes lest they might think me too forward. Soon a young man named Mullwee came in. A game of cards was proposed. We gathered around the table & in a few minutes were all at ease. I was so hoarse I could scarcely talk or laugh. I took a great liking to Miss Elizabeth & gave her a pretty close talk before I left, about 11 o'clock. We retired after promising to call again next evening. Went back to Aunt's that night.

Sat. Aug. 1: Doc E. Webb & I got in his buggy & went 5 mi. to a company muster. Saw a good many men with whom I was acquainted. I went back to Aunt's that evening. Ate supper before sunset; got in our buggy & drove up to Capt. Williams' & met a very hearty welcome. There was to be a Negro wedding there that night, which was quite amusing. About dark a brass band of young men who lived near came down playing. I was sitting at a window in close confab with Miss Lizzie, being somewhat smitten & excited with her & the serenade made me more so. After playing a while they were invited in & for two hours we had some dancing. I never wanted to be well enough to laugh as bad before. I do not recollect of ever enjoying myself much better among strangers. I pitched around Miss Lizzie until late & after promising to accompany them to church next day, to Williamston, we retired & went to Aunt's.

Sunday, Aug. 2: After breakfast Cousin Sarah announced herself in readiness, as I was going with her in a buggy to church. I feigned not being ready until I saw the Misses' Williams' carriage coming. I asked Cousin to propose a change with Miss Lizzie which both readily sanctioned. I had a glorious ride; talked myself almost to death; made some promises to return again next summer. Got to church in good time, one mile beyond Williamston, Eight persons were immersed by the Baptist that morning. There must have been 1000 persons there. I got in the house, but on the ladies seat. They crowded all around me so tight I had to sit it out for I could not get out on ACCOUNT OF

THEIR HOOP DRESSES. We had 2 sermons. I hadly ever saw more beautiful young ladies together. After preaching we drove up to Williamston which is on the railroad; a nice little place; took dinner; then walked to the spring, a mineral water resort where many are spending the summer, from Charleston, Columbia, Augusta & other places. Spent a good part of the evening at the spring & returned home, having a lively & agreeable ride. I made an impression on Miss Lizzie & promised to call to see her next day. Stayed at Charles C. Webb's that night.

Monday, Aug. 3: Bade them farewell & then went over to Aunt's; told them I might call again; if not goodbye. Got in Cousin Doc's buggy & went down to Aunt Eliza Webb's; bade them adieu; went by Uncle Elisha Webb's; took my valedictory of them, then drove to Anderson. Took dinner at Elijah Webb's & at night went to a meeting of the Masonic Lodge. It being late I spent the night at the Benson House. Took breakfast Tues. morning with Elijah Webb. I called upon Cousin Samuel Wilkes & lady in the edge of town. They have one child, a boy-Willie Webb Wilkes. Wilkes is a fine lawyer, in partnership with Hon. J. P. Reid. Cousin Lou Wilkes is the most intelligent & agreeable lady I have met with in all my travels. I remained until have past three oclock. (He tells of a visit to the cemetery & a Girls Seminary). I then visited the old brick Yale Academy where I last went to school in S. C. Took supper at Dr. Edmon Webb's; After which I took Cousin Julia Webb to a concert at the Show Hall. It rained hard during the performance & I got perfectly wet going back, but I kept Cousin Julia dry. Stayed with them that night. I liked Uncle Edmonds company very much. He is one of the best read men I ever met, on almost any subject.

Wednesday Aug. 5: Hired a horse from the livery stable & started to the Centerville neighborhood to bid my kin goodbye. I got in a fox chase. When the fox was caught I started but being lost I took a wrong road which chrew me out of my way. I rode fast to make time. (He described visits to homes of Joel & Catharine Prichard, to Uncle Terry's & homes of Wm. Bolt and Abran Bolt.) I felt much depressed in parting from so many of my kin whom I never expect to see again. Many of them expressed great sorrow in parting with me. Several of them cried. Two hugged & one kissed me. After a hard day's ride I reached Anderson at twilight & took supper at Elijah Webb's (because of flooded condition of the river he changed his plans about the time of his departure & left on the next day- Aug 6.)

Thursday, Aug 6: I arose early at the Benson house where I had spent the night; eating breakfast before sunrise; shook hands with many warm hearted friends; jumped in the omnibus which drove through town to the depot. While passing through the streets I saw many hats & handkerchiefs waving me a fond adieu, showing me as much respect as though I was some distinguished character. Upon arriving at the depot I found Elijah Webb & Cousin Lou Wilkes in waiting to accompany me to Belton to have one more farewell chat with me, as I had left hurriedly, at Isaac before they expected it. (He parted from these relatives at Belton at 7 a.m., & got on the Columbia train, & was soon on the way to Mississippi. He reached his home in Kosciusko, Miss. on Aug. 16. Because of length these foregoing extracts pertain only to some of the incidents of his stay in South Carolina.

Dear Sue,

My great aunt Maude Davis, who lived in Belton, gave me some papers years ago that her husband (Charles Davis) had collected. Among them was a hand-written roll of the Belton Mounted Riflemen. I assume these men served in the Confederate Army, but I have seen no other reference to them anywhere. I have scanned the list and am sending you a copy in case you want to put it in the newsletter sometime. I may have misread a letter here or there and therefore misspelled a name.

Sincerely yours,

 Dan Snipes
