Attend the June Social

Our last meeting before summer will be a picnic at Barker's Creek Baptist Church in Honea Path, Anderson County, SC, June 2, 2003 at 7:00 PM. The church is one of the oldest and has an historic cemetery. Dr. William Donald Kay, member of our chapter and a retired dentist who lives in Mount Pleasant, will be on hand to answer questions and enhance the outing with stories. Dr. Kay is quite familiar with the area as he is a native and has been restoring his family home in Honea Path.

Come Early to tour Cemetery

Pastor Robert Miller and about seven members of the church will come early (about 6:30) to talk about the church and tour the cemetery where U.S. Senator and Governor Olin Johnston was buried. Bring food and drink to feed a few extra. The society will furnish the paper products. Picnic will be in the Fellowship Hall of the Church at 7:00 PM.

Directions: Take River Street, known as Belton Highway, U.S. Hwy 76 south, at the fork in the road, take the right fork which is State Highway 252 towards Honea Path, traveling past Patrick B. Harris Hospital. Proceed on the same road until you see the church on your left, If you enter Honea Path, you have gone too far!

Beginning Genealogy Classes —a success

The room was filled with 14 or 15 people who took advantage of Jim Harper's Beginning Genealogy Classes. The meetings were held at the Anderson Public Library, Greenville Street, near downtown Anderson, on the first and third Tuesday of May. The response was good and it showed there is much interest in Anderson to learn "how to" keep accurate records, read cemeteries, research the facts and document them. Thanks, Jim, for your hard work.

March Abbreviated Minutes: The Anderson County Chapter of the SC Genealogical Society met at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints on March 3, 2003, with 22 members present. The president, Juanita Garrison, opened the meeting and announced that we would have the program first. Gene Schneider introduced the speaker, Shirley McElhannon, Administrator of Anderson County's Register of Deeds office.

Ms. McElhannon told us that the office processes 5,000 documents a month. There is a staff of ten, which deals with all documents establishing property ownership - deeds, mechanics' liens, timber deeds, rights of way, easements, and plats. They assist many people who wish to do research and will provide certified true copies of original documents, such as wills, at a cost of $.50 a page. Turnaround time is now two days; formerly, it was ten. The earliest deed books are in the State Archives in Columbia, but the Anderson office has indexes to them. Records date back to the 1700's.

Cindy Chandler, a new chapter member, is the coordinator of the Anderson County website. She puts newspaper obituaries, wills, etc. on line. The new web address is www.rootsweb.com/~scander 2.

Lamar Gamble gave the invocation. The chapter now has 89 paid members. Linda Cushing asked that someone write a page for the Carolina Herald for this quarter. Several topics were suggested, and Juanita Garrison offered to write about the Denver community. Updated genealogy sheets were submitted for the pedigree sheets.

Gene Schneider brought material relating to tax exempt status for study.

Carl Ellison suggested buying a computer for genealogy use for the library. He, Cindy Chandler, and John Allen Morris will talk to the library staff about this and check on costs.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned. Respectfully submitted, Jean Martin, Recording Secretary

April Abbreviated Minutes: The Anderson County Chapter of the SC Genealogical Society met Monday, April 7 with 25 members present. Lamar Gamble, Chaplain, gave the invocation. The minutes of the March meeting were read and approved.

Linda Cushing asked that people come up with a design for the brochure (computer-generated). The brochure will have information about the group and its meetings. The prize for the winning design will be the choice of any of our publications.

Carl Ellison is editing our pedigree charts. We are to send completed forms to Carl or Linda, now.

John Allen Morris, Archivist, is putting obituary information on disc. Records are accessible online at www.andersononline.com

Entries for the state's book contest have been submitted. The judging will be in June and awards will be given in July. Our entries were Debbie Harbin's Mountain Creek Minutes and Sue Brewer's McDougald-Johnston Mortuary Index.

The classes for beginners in genealogy research will be held on the first and third Tuesdays in May from 7-9 p.m. in the conference room at the library, and taught by Jim Harper. There will be a $10 charge for materials. This will be publicized once next week and again just before they begin. Jim Harper has published three volumes of "The Intelligencer", an early Anderson newspaper and they are for sale at $23 each. Contact him if you want one.

Lamar Gamble asked that people copy Bible records and send them to him or John Allen Morris. Included should be the name of the sender, a copy of the frontispiece with date of publication, name of Bible's owner, address and phone number, plus the family name.

Plans are to proceed on obtaining a computer for the SC room at the Anderson Library. A proposal describing what we want will be presented to Mr. Carl Stone.

Dr. Ellison then presented the program. He distributed various forms and described their use. He advised that one keep a research sheet so that you'll know what you've done and what you're working on. Keep detailed notes. Use ready to use forms.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned. Respectfully submitted, Jean Martin, Recording Secretary

Brochure Contest Deadline July 10

In our last issue of the newsletter, the call went out for our members, especially those who have a creative flair, to design a brochure for our chapter. We got no response. At the April meeting, the thought occurred to us that a prize might be an incentive to those who were reluctant to enter the contest. So, the prize that we are offering is the winner's choice of any publication that we sell. The rules for the contest are:

1. Brochure should be on 8 x11 paper folded in thirds lengthwise making a trifold (clip art or picture would be nice)
2. Should include Chapter name and address/ when & where we meet
3. Should include an application for membership
4. Should include list of officers & publications (info available online)

USING THE CHARLESTON LIBRARY'S WEB SITE

By Vivian Kessler, vskpdk@earthlink.net

This is a case of do as I say, not as I do! You can prepare yourself for a trip to the South Carolina Room at the main Charleston County Public Library with judicious use of the library's web site. You can save time and effort for the days when you actually visit the library to do your genealogical research.

First go to the library's home page address at <http://www.ccpl.org/>. Scroll down the page until you see "Library Services" on the left. Under that heading, you will see "SC History / Genealogy." Place your mouse on that line and left-click it to go to a web page with lots of information on the South Carolina Room (<http://www.ccpl.org/scr.html>).

Scroll down to "Guidelines to South Carolina Room Research" and left-click your mouse on that line to jump to that part of the web page. Here you will see general procedures to use in the South Carolina Room. Further down the same web page is a Genealogy Bibliography, which lists some of the sources in the South Carolina Room. Under the category "Guides to South Carolina Genealogy", several books are listed along with the Dewey Decimal System number. One example is The Genealogist's Guide to Charleston County, South Carolina, SCR 929 Coté. Another work listed here is African American Genealogical Research, SCR 929.30973 Begle.

The next category is "General Works", which includes Index of Surnames, South Carolina Gazette, 1832-1751 [sic] SCR 071.57 Index. Another reference listed here is South Carolina Magazine of Ancestral Research, SCR 929.1 Canno. Look further down the screen under Record of Marriages for Charleston, SC, and you will find a variety of resources, from books to microfilm and microfiche and CD-ROM. Examples are South Carolina Lowcountry Church Records on microfiche and Family Tree Maker Marriage Index: AL, GA, SC, 1641 - 1944 on CD-ROM.

Other categories of works are Birth, Marriage, and Death Records for Charleston, SC; Wills; Immigration; Land and Tax Records; Military Records even before the Revolutionary War; Directories including those for the City of Charleston as early as 1782 on microfilm; and federal census records for South Carolina on microfilm. Please do browse the web site to see the many works available in these different categories.

When you do visit the South Carolina Room, the librarians there will help you find books, microfilms and microfiche, various indexes in that room, and even death cards in file drawers.

Have you thought about using old newspapers? You might read them to find traces of your elusive ancestors to get past brick walls. The South Carolina Room has limited space to store microfilms of newspapers, but you may want to visit the Periodicals Department at the back of the second floor.

How do you find out if the library has the newspaper that you want to read? According to a librarian at the Ask-A-Question web page (<http://www.ccpl.org/askaq.html>), you can search the online catalog for a newspaper using a Title search. If the library has any issues of that newspaper, your search results will list the years/issues. The old newspapers will be on microfilm.

To search the web site for old newspapers, first return to the library's home page at <http://www.ccpl.org/> by clicking the Back button. Look for the heading "Library Catalog Information" on the left side of the screen. Move your mouse to "Search the library's catalog" and left-click that line. On the next screen left-click the button labeled "Search by title". The next web page title is "Search the Charleston County Library's Catalog by Title". That page has a search box where you can type in the name of the newspaper you are seeking. Left-click your mouse in the search box and type in, for example, "gazette" (without the quotation marks). Left-click the small down arrow to the right of "Type of materials" to specify "as serials only" so you do not search for books about newspapers. You might also want to click on the small down arrow to the right of "Language:" and specify "eng English only". You really didn't want to read all about it in Arabic or Cantonese, did you?

Now left-click your mouse on the "Begin Title Search" button. For "gazette" the search function returns three titles with hyperlinks (a hyperlink is an area of the screen where you can click your mouse to go to a different web page). The first hyperlink displays "Gazette (3 titles)". If you click on that title/hyperlink you are taken to another web page that lists 3 different Gazettes. One looks interesting, since it is old. It is "The gazette of the State of South Carolina - [microform]. Charleston, S.C.: Timothy and Boden [etc.], 1777-1785. Below that information, the listing indicates that the location of the newspaper is MAIN - Periodicals Room and Microfilm (1777 - 1782). If you click on the title just listed, the hyperlink will take you to more details about the microfilmed newspaper.

If you browse the library's web site from home, and make notes of the books, microfilms, or other resources that interest you, your next trip to the South Carolina Room can be more productive.

Smith/SlatonSubmitted by Thomas E. Smith Tomsmith@shelby.net

"I just uncovered Rev. Basil Smith's wife's maiden name, which has been a mystery for a lot of Smith researchers. I was looking over William Slaton's estate file and discovered where Basil Smith signed for some money coming from the estate of George Slaton. The administrator of William Slaton's estate had been appointed Basil's Power of Attorney to collect this for him. I had supposed that George Slaton went to GA or TN, but I found him listed as having an estate settlement in Jackson County, GA around 1837. Basil Smith was listed as having a voucher in the settlement.

In family history listed under www.Genealogy.com, they showed George Slaton having a daughter, Milly b.1800 married to a Boyd Smith. This is incorrect. Amelia (Milly) was born in 1773 in VA and married Basil Smith, who was born in 1772 in GA. William Slaton was a brother to Amelia. One of Basil's sons, Phillip Porter Smith, married a daughter of William Slaton, Jane Slaton. Caleb Cartee married Elizabeth, another daughter of William Slaton.

Based on this information, I believe my ancestor, George S. Smith, son of Basil and Milly, was named after George Slaton. The S in his middle name stands for Slaton. Phillip Porter Smith's son, William S. Smith, probably had the same middle name, Slaton.

Another interesting note is that George Slaton had property around 1790 on both sides of Little Beaverdam Creek and Joseph Smith had land grants on the upper end of Big Beaverdam Creek. This makes me more convinced that Basil was the son of Joseph and Elizabeth Smith.

If anyone has or acquires copies of George Slaton's estate settlement, I would love to have a copy." Tom

Introduction to the Descendents of Liddle/Siddell Family of Pendleton,*SC by Linda G. Cheek LGCreek@aol.com

"I have been researching families in the Pendleton District of Anderson County, SC for over thirty-five years and have collected much material on different lines. I feel this material would be useful to many researchers and should be made public. The Liddle/Siddell family is not my lineage, but I collect and research all families from the Pendleton District (Anderson, Oconee and Pickens counties). I welcome additions and corrections to any material that I submit by email or snail mail. Please remember, I do not do personal research."

(Editor's note: The Liddle/Siddell family was such a big file that the entire lineage could not be included in one issue. The Liddle/Siddell family will conclude in the next newsletter to be printed in the third quarter. Thanks to Linda for sending her information to us. We encourage others to submit family histories to keep our newsletter interesting.)

Georgia Archives Update

One of our members, Jerry Kay, of Atlanta, went to the one of the opening tours at the new Georgia Archives, held May 6-10, 2003 at 11:00 AM and 1:00 PM. He was impressed and said that it was "outstanding and state of the art." He learned that within three years the new Southeast National Archives would be built next to the Georgia Archives. What a wonderful chance to have such important genealogical resources so close together. The new building is located at 5800 Jonesboro Road, Morrow, GA. New regular hours will be Tuesday-Saturday, 8:30 AM to 5:00 PM, phone number 678-364-3700. To visit the archives, travel I-85 to Atlanta, proceed to I-75 to Macon. In Clayton County, exit the interstate at exit 233. Go over the bridge on Hwy. 54 to the Archives on your left. Jerry thinks that is the best route. Another route from I-85 and take I-285 South. Travel to Hwy 54 and go south to the Archives.
